IEEE SYMPOSIUM CALL FOR TECHNICAL PAPERS

The Best Speakers
The Best Papers
Your Best Friends
The Best Time of Your Life

Your Invitation to an Exceptional Event

Attend the 2009 IEEE International Symposium on Electromagnetic Compatibility in Austin, Texas during August 17 – 21, 2009 and experience "EMC Austin Style" in "The Live Music Capital of the World"!

EMC Symposium attendees will enjoy going to events at the spacious and modern Austin Convention Center, just across the street from our host hostelier, the new Hilton Hotel. Both are located a short walk away from Sixth Street, where the entertainment venues, funky boutiques, casual coffee shops, night-time hot spots and art galleries abound.

Benefits of Attending

- ★ Hear top-rated peer reviewed technical papers presented by experts in multi-track sessions over a three-day period
- ★ Attend two days of practical peer reviewed workshops and tutorials
- ★ See experiments and demonstrations presented by experts
- ★ Visit exhibitors and learn about the latest offerings in EMC products and services
- ★ Tour a local manufacturer of EMC test systems
- ★ Renew friendships and network with industry gurus
- ★ Share fun-filled social events with family and special friends

Getting Here

Austin Bergstrom International Airport (AUS) has direct flights to major cities throughout the US and is serviced by major carriers including American Airlines, United, Continental, Northwest, Jet Blue and Southwest Airlines.

CALL FOR MUSICIANS

Info: www.emc2009.org/music

Proposal acceptance date: Any time

Notification of acceptance: Audience applause

Musically talented (or not so talented) members of the EMC community are invited to entertain on stage in "The Live Music Capital of the World", at the Austin Convention Center, Exhibit Hall Four (4), August 19, at 12 noon during a one hour entertainment showcase. A professional backup band will be provided. All you need to do is tell us who you are, what instrument you will be playing, the song you will perform, and the key you will play or sing in so our backup band is ready to accompany you.
